DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawing sheets are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: Substitute "they" with -- the -- (see page 6, line 2). Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1-37 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-37 of U.S. Patent No. 6,726,092, (hereinafter '092). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both the present claimed invention and the '092 Patent claims the same subject matter, such as a method for selecting a payment provider to pay for communication services. For example, in claim 1 of the present claimed invention and claim 1 of the '092 Patent, the Applicants claim:

i) "the calling electronic device communicating the alternative payment provider data to the network via a communications link", whereas in the '092 Patent, the Applicants claim "said calling electronic device communicating the data identifying the alternative payment providers to said network via said communications link" (see col. 8, lines 55-57); and

ii) "...the network contacting a plurality of alternative payment providers in order to find one that will accept responsibility for paying the communication services", whereas in the '092 Patent, the Applicants claim "said network contacting a first one of the alternative payment providers requesting acceptance of a payment request associated with the communications link; and said network contacting a second one of said alternative payment providers upon refusal of the first alternative payment provider to accept responsibility for said payment request..." (see col. 8, lines 58-64).

Thus, in respect to above discussions, it would have been obvious to an artisan of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the teachings of claims 1-37 of the '092 Patent as a general teaching for a communication system to perform the same functions as claimed by the present application. Therefore, the claims of the '092 Patent obviously encompass the claims of the present application and differ only in terminology.
